Catalog Updates

This quarter's catalog reflects several items out of stock, starting with several original issues of Lines South that have sold out. Don't delay filling out your collection of missing issues; all are "new until you've read them." As mentioned elsewhere in this issue, we now have a big clearance sale under way for certain back issues. Others are in very short supply and their cost remains the original cover price. Whatever their price, these issues are a great value.

We are also out of several data book reprint titles. We are considering issuing some of these titles in electronic format. If you are looking for a reprint that you don't see in the current catalog listing, please let us know at internetsales@acsal.org. finally, we are out of the reprints of pre-2000 issues of Lines South. We may also convert these to CDs as well in the near future. Your questions and suggestions about our product catalog are always welcome.
